CIABC Confirms CEO Terminated for Cause

The CIABC received notice on March 11 2008 that the former CEO Norma Eaton has commenced an action against the Association for wrongful dismissal and claiming compensation connected with her former employment at the Association.

The CIABC Board of Directors is confident in its reasons for terminating the employment of the former CEO and believes that there is no merit to the claims she is now making. We have therefore instructed our solicitors to pursue all legal channels to recover from the former CEO all costs and damages incurred by the Association as a result of the invalid examinations and certifications that took place under her management according to the independent auditor.

The Board of Directors has taken this question very seriously. Our members and the public rely on CIABC certification as the best guarantee of quality training in this industry in British Columbia and we will not allow it to be undermined under any circumstances.
